Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The Gallery was first incorporated in July 1900 as the Art Museum of Toronto. The name was changed to the Art Gallery of Toronto by a statute law amendment act, assented to 24 April 1919. It was thought that the word “Museum” conflicted with the Royal Ontario Museum which was founded in 1912. The current name of the Gallery took effect July 8, 1966 when The Art Gallery of Ontario Act, 1966 received royal assent. The name change was designed to acknowledge the rapidly growing role the Gallery played across the province.

Notes

Immediate source of acquisition

Records were maintained and transferred to the archives by the Custodian of the Grange until 1981; by the Secretary/Coordinator of the Grange until 1997; by the Curatorial Assistant until 2012, and by the Historical Site Coordinator until 2015.

Records relating to the Boulton and Smith families were acquired during the 1970s. Some have unknown provenance, and others were donated by descendants including Margery Boulton and Christie Smith.

Arrangement

Boxes 1-25 of this records group were arranged and maintained for reference use by Grange staff and volunteers, and the archivist has retained that original arrangement.

Boxes 52-69 of this records group were maintained as a collection called Archives of the Grange.

Although there is a finding aid for “Archives of the Grange,” over time these records have been mixed up, and interfiled with other Boulton and Grange documents that seem to have been added at another time.

The archivist has re-arranged the collection to distinguish between secondary research materials (series 13), primary materials originating from the Grange, Smith, and Boulton families (series 14), and materials relating to the Art Museum of Toronto (series 15), noting the original box numbers for records that were part of “Archives of the Grange,” where possible.

Series: AGOR013.S01 - Restoration of the Grange

Creator: Art Gallery of Ontario

Title: Restoration of the Grange

Reference code: AGOR013.S01

Date: 1966-1983, pred. 1969-1974 (date of creation)

Scope and content: By the mid to late 1960s, the Art Gallery of Ontario had grown substantially in size. To accommodate this growth, a master plan was developed to expand the gallery space and education facilities. Part of Stage I of this plan was to build new office space for a growing administrative and programming staff, thus moving existing offices out of the Grange.

Given the historical importance of the Grange, Director William Withrow sought funding to restore the Grange as a gentleman's house circa 1835 to 1885 and open it to the public. Peter Stokes and Isobel Stewart were hired in 1967 to complete a feasibility study on the restoration and Peter Stokes was later hired as the architect to oversee the restoration. Jeanne Minhinnick was hired as consultant on the furnishings, J.R. Page Ltd as contractor and Verschoyle Blake hired as historical consultant.

The restoration of the Grange was overseen by the Grange Restoration Committee, a sub-committee of the Board of Trustees which first met in February 1969, and the Grange Advisory Committee, a sub-committee of the Women's Committee. Margaret Matchell was hired as Custodian of the Grange in 1970 to coordinate the restoration project. She worked as the Keeper or Custodian of the Grange until 1981 when she became the first Archivist at the Art Gallery of Ontario.

The total cost of restoration was over $620,000 and took place between 1969 and 1973, concurrent with Stage I renovations to the Art Gallery. To raise the necessary capital the Art Gallery set up a Grange Fund which was overseen by the Women's Committee. They contributed over nearly $400,000 towards the costs of restoration through special fundraising events such as Deck-the-Grange, KaleidAGO and Art Game, funding drives, memorial funds and other donations. The Art Gallery Building Fund provided $234,000 towards the project. Another $50,000 came from a Federal Government grant.

The restoration of the Grange was completed and officially opened to the public on April 18, 1973.

The series comprises correspondence, budgets and cost estimates, financial statements, contracts, progress certificates, correspondence related to the Grange Fund and the restoration of the Grange. It also contains the working files of Jeanne Minhinnick, furnishing consultant for the Grange Restoration, which consist of extensive notes, samples, and research by Jeanne Minhinnick on historical furnishings and interior design. There are also several original sketches of furnishings by her husband, William Minhinnick.

Title: Volunteer Committee

Reference code: AGOR013.S09

Date: 1973-2005 (date of creation)

Scope and content: Series contains records relating to the operations of volunteer committees of The Grange – primarily meeting minutes, agendas, memos, correspondence, The Grange newsletter, training documents, Day Captain's minutes, and historical research materials provided to volunteers. Volunteer committees were variously known as The Grange Committee (1973-1980), the Grange Volunteer Committee (1980-1995), and The Grange Executive (1996-). Committee members liaised with gallery departments and the AGO Volunteer Committee, ran programs and daily operations, fundraised, and publicized The Grange. In 1981 due to staff cuts in the gallery, Grange volunteers took over operation of the Grange including administration, programming, training, and finances.

Series: AGOR013.S13 - Boulton, Dixon, and Smith ResearchTitle: Boulton, Dixon, and Smith ResearchReference code: AGOR013.S13Date: 1913; 1950s-1999 (date of creation)Scope and content: series consists of research and correspondence related to the inhabitants of Grange House – the Boulton Family, Harriet Boulton-Dixon-Smith, and Goldwin Smith. At the time of the restoration of the Grange, there was scant published material about the Boulton family, and Margaret Machell and other Grange and AGO staff undertook original research to support accurate restoration and interpretation of the house.Series includes copies of documents and news clippings, research correspondence, research, and correspondence with descendants of the families. Series also includes John Lownsbrough's research and drafts for his book The Privileged Few: The Grange & Its People in Nineteenth Century Toronto, which was written in the course of his work as Historic Researcher at the Grange and published by AGO in 1980.

Physical description: 72cm textual materials

Arrangement: Much of this series was originally maintained with see series 14 and 15. in a collection called “Archives of the Grange.” Although there is a finding aid for “Archives of the Grange,” (which can be found in box 71), over time these records have been mixed up, and interfiled with other Boulton and Grange documents that seem to have been added at another time.

The archivist has re-arranged the collection to distinguish between secondary research materials (series 13), primary materials originating from the Smith and Boulton families (series 14), and materials relating to the Art Museum of Toronto (series 15), noting the original box numbers for records that were part of “Archives of the Grange,” where possible.
